

Frequently Asked Questions:

How do I apply to join RHB?

You can search for a specific vacancy using our job search engine. If this is your first job application with us, please sign up / login and complete the profile registration. If you are a returning applicant, feel free to login and update with your latest resume, and apply for the job.

What types of jobs are available?

We offer all types of opportunities for students, fresh graduates and experienced hires.

I can't find a suitable job on your website, can I still apply?

Drop us your resume and we'll see if there's a role that seems like a good match.

How long after applying can I expect to wait before hearing anything?

As we do our best to shorten your waiting period, due to an overwhelming number of applications we receive every day, sometimes it will take approximately 10-14 days after you submit your application. Nonetheless, in certain cases only shortlisted candidates will be notified.

If I submit an application or register my details, will RHB keep me on file?

We store all candidate details unless we receive a written request by an individual to delete their personal record. These records enable us to search against candidate profiles with specific skill sets, should we have specific recruitment needs in the future.

Do I need a degree to work at RHB?

It will depend on the level and nature of the role in which you're interested. If a degree is a requirement, it will usually be stated in the job description. However, a candidate who does not hold a degree may still be considered for one of our professional vacancies if they can demonstrate substantial relevant experience.

Do I need to have experience of working in the financial industry to join RHB?

It depends on the position you're interested in. Many technical roles require you to have spent time in a similar job and environment, while others require less specific experience. Most of our commercial opportunities are based on generic business knowledge and so do not require experience in the financial industry.

The position I was applying to is no longer available. Why is this?

If you are unable to see the position you were applying for, it is most likely due to the position reaching its closing date. Please note that RHB reserves the right to close jobs before the advertised closing date if necessary.

Can I send my resume in hardcopy?

Let's all spread the love for mother nature and the trees. In support of a better tomorrow, kindly deposit your resume via our career website.

I have previously applied for the same role at other recruitment platforms i.e. jobstreet. Should I reapply at the RHB Career Website?

Yes! Rest assured that filling in your profile at RHB Career Website is an easy and simple process that can be completed in just a few steps.

I am interested in more than one position listed on the website; will it affect my application if I apply for more than one job at RHB Career Website?

You are welcome to apply for each position that interests you and matches your qualifications. Don't forget to read through the details too!

Will I be contacted by phone or by email should I be shortlisted for any role?

We will send an email to contact applicants or start contact via phone calls. We strongly suggest that you regularly check your email and phone messages throughout the duration of your job application period. We also suggest that you double check your profile and resume to include updated information.
